On a farm

Working on a baby pig farm is not always easy! You have to look after the animals and grow vegetables to feed them. And what would happen if a zombie piglin messed up the garden? Don't let the pigs go hungry!

Fix the garden

Follow the pattern in each row to fill it in with the right plant. The patterns will get more difficult as you go!

Max's new clothes

1

Max is looking for the perfect outfit for the Fancy Dress Competition.

I need a new outfit!

But what should it be?

2

I hope no one thinks this dinosaur suit is a bit old!

3

Oops! Maybe this suit isn't a good fit for me!

CRASH!

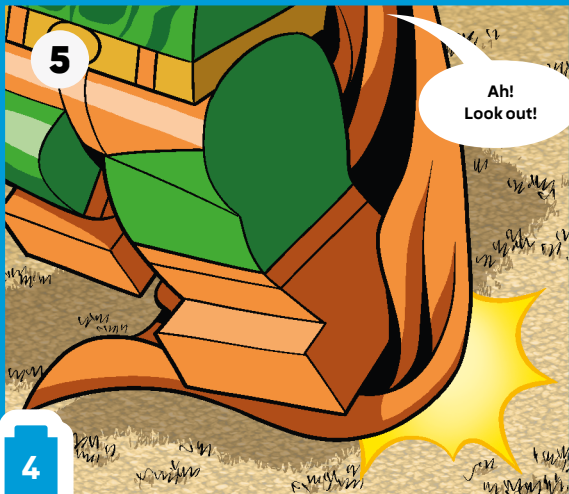

4

A bit later...

Look at me! I'm super Max!

BOING!

5

Ah! Look out!

6

This costume isn't super after all!

THUMP!

7

Alright, that wasn't for me, but my costume still needs to be fun and exciting, like a champion roller-skater!

8

Ah! Maybe a little bit too fun and exciting!

ZOOM!

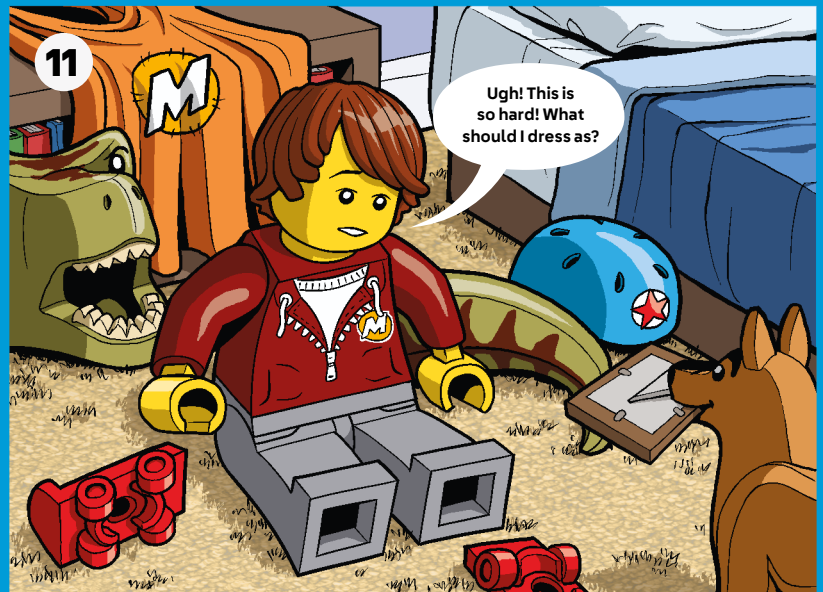

9

Aaah!

10

Good thing I wasn't hurt, but how do I get down?

11

Ugh! This is so hard! What should I dress as?

12

Of course! I should go to the party as... myself!

13

This might not have worked for you, but I think I look pretty good right now!

Around the world with animals

LEGO CREATOR

Pandas

Although pandas, orcas and penguins live in different places, there are some similarities between them, and it's not just their colors! Read on to find out more about these animals!

Sometimes pandas do handstands against trees when urinating. That's how they mark their territory!

Penguins

Penguins live in groups of thousands, huddling close to stay warm, making a giant group hug!

Parents feed chicks by putting fish right into their beaks, like a special delivery service!

Pandas live in mountain forests in China. They munch mainly on bamboo, for up to 16 hours a day. That's a lot of chewing!

Tiny cubs stay close to their mothers, nestled in their paws for what feels like an endless cuddle!

Orcas

Penguins live in the Southern Hemisphere, mostly in Antarctica, but not only.

Every orca family has a unique language. They chat through clicks, whistles, squeaks and screams. It's like a secret code!

Orcas live in all oceans! They love the cold waters near Antarctica and the Arctic, but also visit warmer places.

Baby orcas are called calves. They can be quite long and weigh as much as a bear!

Quiz time!

Try these questions and see how much you remember. If you're not sure, don't worry. Look back at the fun facts and images for hints!

1. Penguin chicks hunt for their own food.

- True False

2. Which of these two animals can do handstands?

- Panda Penguin

3. Whose baby is called a calf?

- Penguin's Orca's Panda's

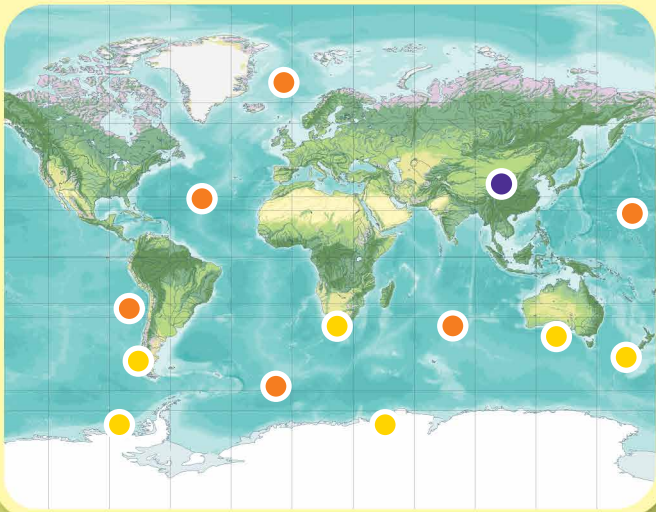

4. Both pandas and penguins like to hug.

- True False

5. What is a panda's favorite food?

- Fish Bamboo Worms

6. Where does each animal live? Match the colored dots on the map to the correct animal by drawing a line. Use the dot colors as a hint!

Love the way you build

My name is Jennifer Jasmin Kessler and I am from Germany. I am a photographer and a musician; I play guitar in a band where we write songs for kids. The songs are about friendships and animals, and even about octopuses!

I also love taking pictures of LEGO® minifigures!

I love creating tiny worlds for my favorite LEGO® minifigures

I like placing them in different scenes. They can go on many adventures, and I can take pictures to capture their stories!

What is your favorite LEGO® minifigure and what adventures does it enjoy the most?

Lighting is very important

Being outside or near a window is a good choice, but if a minifigure looks dark compared to the background, I use a white piece of paper to bounce some light back onto it.

Where will your minifigure go next?

I let the minifigures inspire me

I use their facial expressions and other details to come up with different ideas. I also use objects around me, like flat stones and some grass, to create background.

To create amazing scenes inside, I find interesting places and things around the house, but also make dioramas. Sometimes an unexpected spot can be a perfect setting!

Getting down to the same level as the minifigure makes the photos more exciting and brings the scene to life!

What fun things will you use to bring your minifigure adventures to life?

It is bigger and meaner than anything I've ever seen!

We must stop it before it destroys the dojo and NINJAGO® City!

We need to use the best of our powers to stop this storm!

Hey! That's my lunch!

Let's try putting water on it!

Next time, let's stick to Spinjitzu!
