INTRODUCTION FOR THE GROWN-UP

HOW THIS PACK WORKS

This is an interactive adventure where you are the narrator. The story will inspire your child to create a made-up LEGO® creature (you can make one too!). As they build you'll find a few questions to ask them to start a conversation on the topic. Don't worry if some of the questions aren't relevant – they're just a guide to get you talking together.

Hello!
My name is
Ida Switchditonandoff, Digital Explorer and Online Creaturologist, do call me Ida.

Welcome to the online world, fellow explorer!

I don't have to tell you how incredible the internet is,
I know you've been exploring here since you were a little pixel...

(Your grown-ups may find it hard to keep up!)

My adventures here have taken me to wonderful places!
I've made brilliant friends and met countless curious characters.

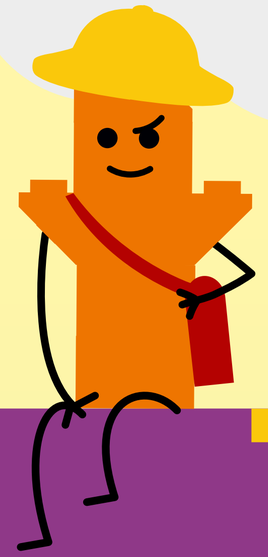
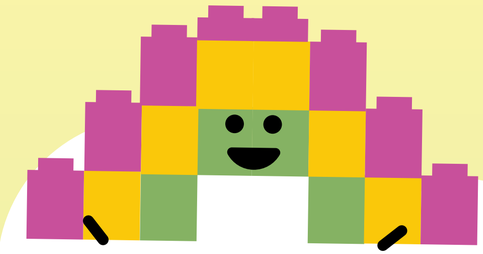
I've also discovered some things to beware of! I've been recording these unruly beasts in my book:



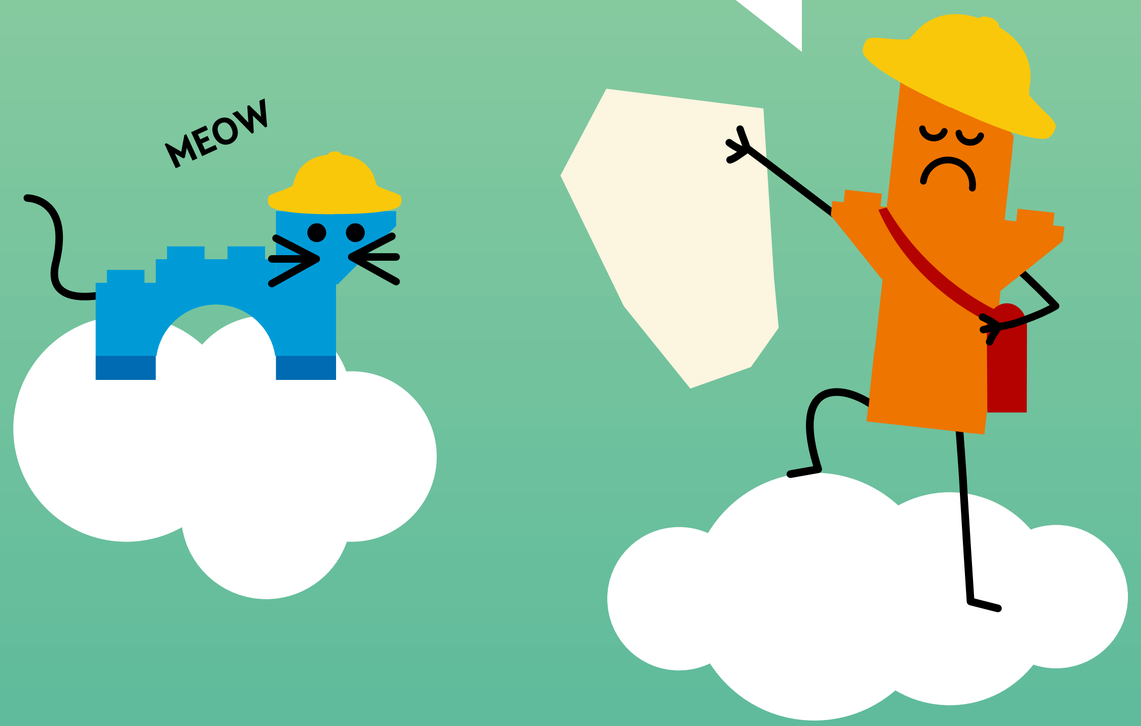
Wild Creatures of the Online World

How To Identify Them...
And Then Avoid Them!



My book will help every online explorer know what to look out for, so nothing gets in the way of them having a fantastic time.
Well, at least it WAS until...

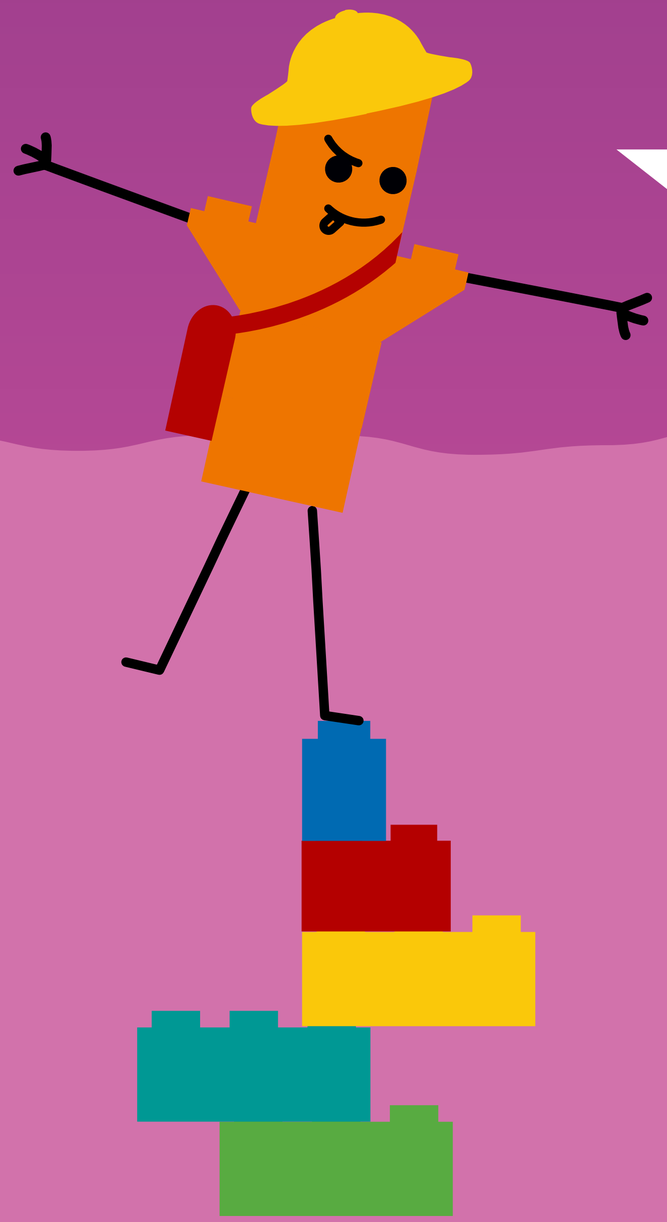
Yesterday, when I was busy watching hilarious cat videos (vital research!) one of these naughty creatures snuck in, tore up my book and ATE all the pictures.



Only a few scraps of my book remain and NO pictures.

And nobody under 100 years old will want to read a book without any pictures.

Also, online explorers like you won't know what to look out for.



I hear you're an excellent LEGO builder with a first-rate imagination: just the skills I'm looking for!

I would like to recreate these funny little online creatures using LEGO bricks.

Will you help me with one?

SPLENDID!

I'll read you a description from my book and you can build along.
You don't need any special LEGO® bricks, just use what you have at home.
Don't worry, I'll help every step of the way!

Right team, let's dive in!
Make sure you're fully charged,
grab your LEGO bricks and let's go!

The Clueless Clicker

(Leapus Withoutlookus, species Watch-Out)

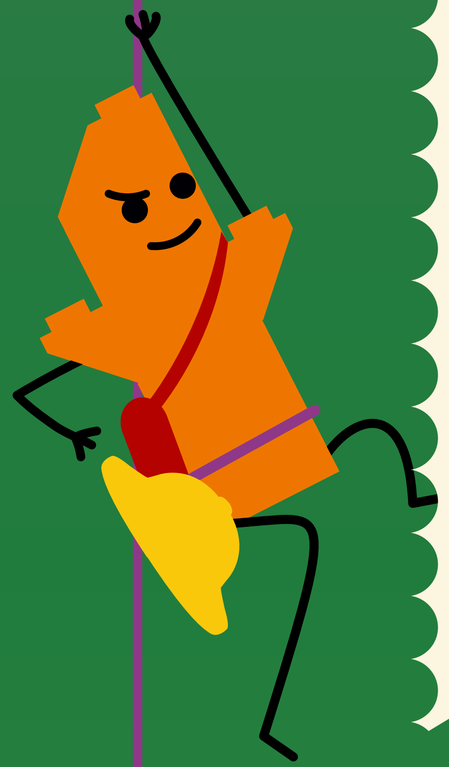
Got the gist? Let's take a look at a Clueless Clicker...

Clueless Clickers love roaming around the digital world and are always keen to help anyone in need! Unfortunately, these good-natured creatures are sometimes too trusting when people seem to need help and they can be tricked into giving away sensitive information such as their name or access to their accounts.

Because of their great big heart and kind nature, Clueless Clickers often rush into traps without considering the potential risks.

If only they would slow down and think about things more before offering their help and their information!

These helpful creatures come in all shapes and sizes, so no two Clueless Clickers are the same!



Physical characteristics

Clueless Clickers have small eyes which are always focused on helping people so they can't see the bigger picture

They carry around a big heart which they give to others to help them

They have long stretchy arms to reach out and help as many people as they can

GROWN-UP'S TASK

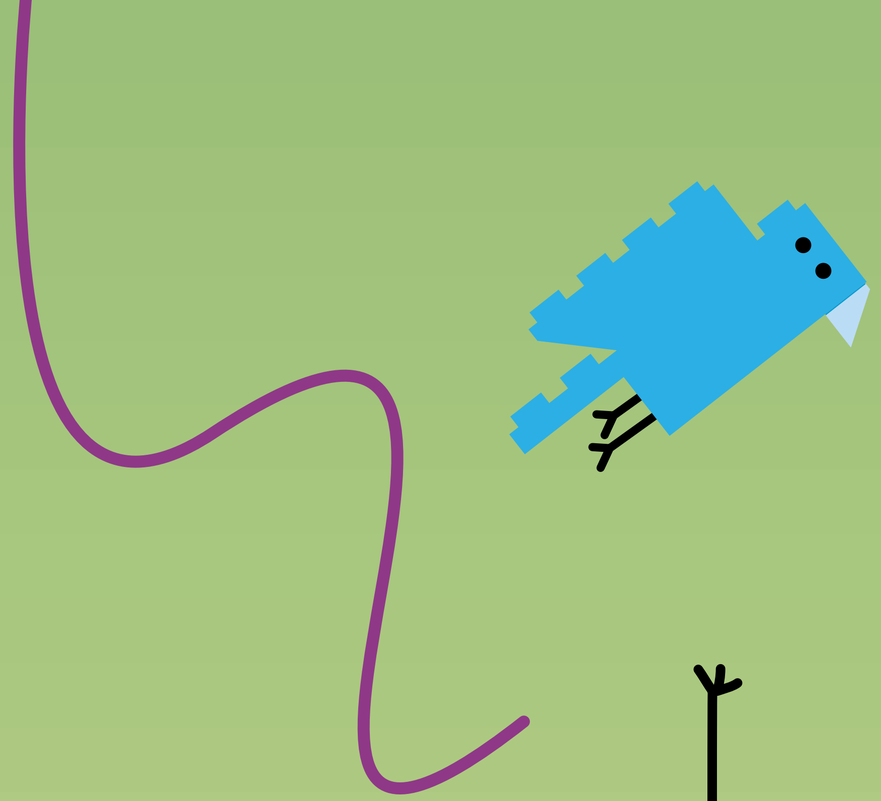
Below are some questions to ask your little explorer as they build.

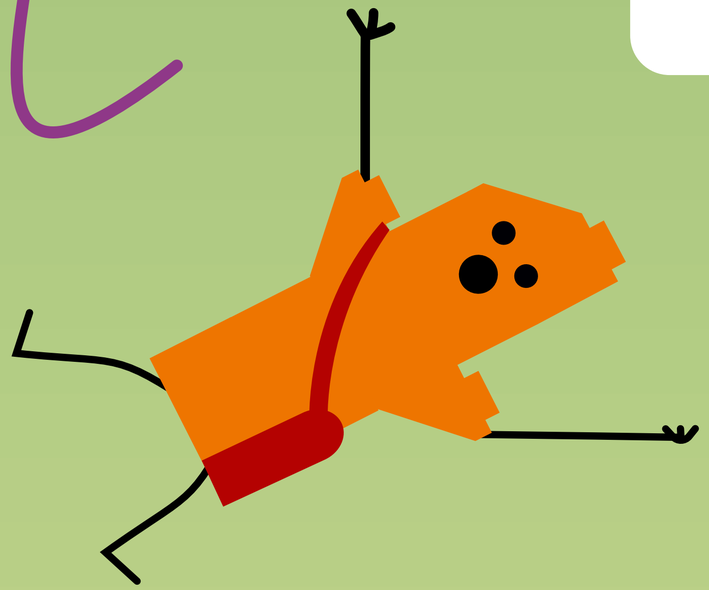
Have you ever been asked to share information with someone you don't know? What did you do?

Why do you think it's important to think before sharing information online?

If you accidently gave someone access to your personal accounts, what's the first thing you should do?

Have you ever come across pop-ups on a website that seemed suspicious? What should you do if it happens again?

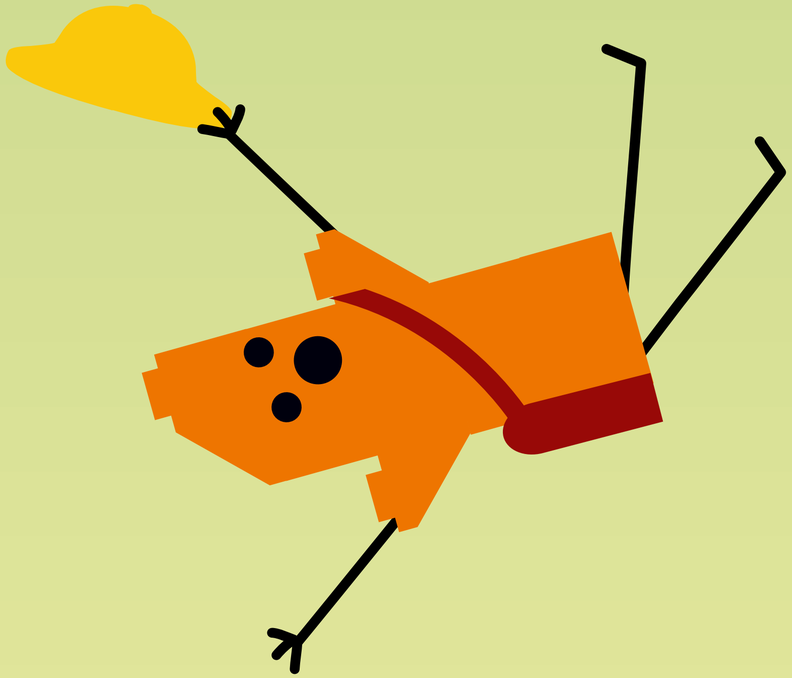




What a wonderful Clueless Clicker.
You must have seen one before!

Oh no, look over there!

WATCH! OUT!



Oh no! A sneaky scammer is trying to trick a Clueless Clicker into giving its sensitive information away by pretending to need help!

Quick! Can you build a lockbox for the Clueless Clicker to keep its heart safe?

GROWN-UP'S TASK

Question prompts:

- How do you keep information on your phone or tablet safe?
- Who do you share your passwords with?
- What makes a good password?
- Can you think some of some ways to check if a link is safe?
- What should you do if somebody finds out your password?
- What should you do if an app or website asks for your name, address, or age?

Phew, that was a close one!
We've got lots more creatures to add to my book, come on!
There's just one more thing before we go...

Let's take the online explorer's pledge together!
Just read this along together with your grown-up:

- We'll make really strong passwords that can't be guessed easily and never share them with others.
- Let's remind each other to update our passwords regularly.
- Let's ask for help if we see a message or pop-up we think is unsafe.
- We'll block messages from people we don't know.
- Let's tell each other if we think we've clicked on something risky.

Great!

Thank you for your excellent LEGO building!
