Rencontre avec le fan concepteur

Fan concepteur
LEGO® Ideas
Sébastien Esnault.
À droite : La proposition
originale de Sébastien.

Sébastien Esnault (pseudo LEGO® Ideas : Pidelium) est chercheur en chimie en France et passionné de restauration de vieilles mobylettes. Qui sait, ce hobby lui a peut-être donné un coup de pouce pour remporter notre défi de construction « 90s Throwback – The Next Chapter » !

« J'ai redécouvert ma passion d'enfance pour les constructions LEGO lorsque ma fille a reçu son premier set LEGO. C'était comme retrouver une partie de moi-même. Puis, lorsqu'elle a participé à un concours de design LEGO et atteint la finale, elle m'a donné envie de rejoindre la plateforme LEGO Ideas. J'étais adolescent lorsque les films Aardman Un mauvais pantalon et Rasé de près sont sortis au milieu des années 90, et ce duo emblématique a conquis le monde. Au-delà des personnages eux-mêmes, ce qui m'a vraiment motivé, c'était de les construire avec la moto et son side-car. Cette scène rassemble tout ce qui rend l'univers de Wallace & Gromit si original et attachant : l'inventivité, l'humour, l'amitié et le goût de l'aventure. J'adore créer des formes arrondies avec des briques, et ce modèle est rempli de courbes. Il paraît simple au premier regard, mais le rendre solide et stable a représenté un vrai défi ! Voir l'une de mes idées devenir un véritable set LEGO me semblait autrefois totalement inaccessible. Je suis incroyablement heureux que cela devienne aujourd'hui une réalité. »

Les fenêtres, c'est leur spécialité

Si vos fenêtres ont besoin d'un bon nettoyage, le service de lavage de vitres Wash 'n' Go de Wallace & Gromit est là pour vous aider. Dans le film récompensé aux oscars Rasé de près (1995), Wallace, grand amateur de fromage, enrichit sa collection d'inventions farfelues et lance sa nouvelle entreprise depuis le 62 West Wallaby Street.

<< Nous sommes à la vitesse maximale - elle n'ira pas plus vite ! >>

- Wallace

Avec leur élégante moto et son side-car, Wallace et Gromit sont prêts à intervenir au moindre appel concernant une urgence vitrière. Très vite, moutons, mystères et catastrophes en tout genre s'en mêlent, et Wallace comme Gromit doivent unir leur intelligence et leur créativité pour sauver la situation. Depuis près de 40 ans, le créateur de Wallace & Gromit, Nick Park, raconte des histoires en animation image par image, fait sourire le monde entier et laisse derrière lui un héritage durable grâce à ses films devenus cultes.

Le mot de l'équipe de designers LEGO® Ideas

L'esprit joueur, l'humour et la créativité des films Aardman s'accordent naturellement avec l'univers LEGO®, et le fan concepteur Sébastien a réalisé un travail remarquable ! Nous avons particulièrement aimé son utilisation de la loupe comme paire de lunettes. Les éléments graphiques ont joué un rôle essentiel, notamment les yeux très expressifs des personnages et le célèbre sourire de Wallace.

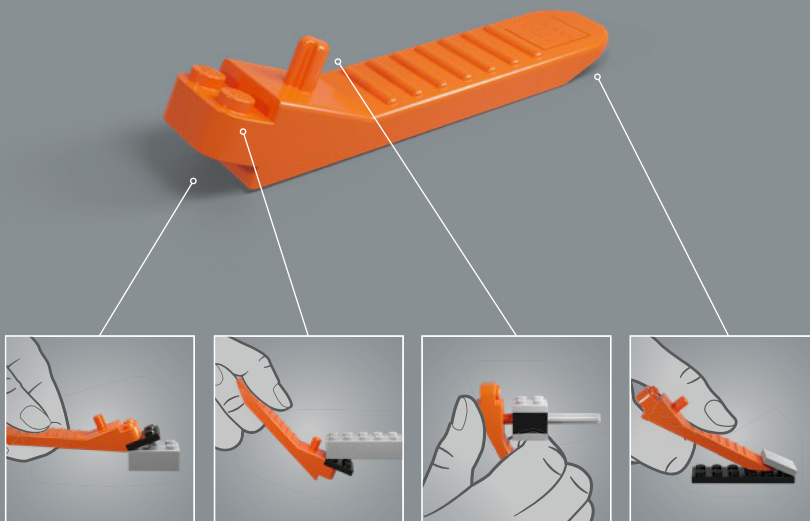

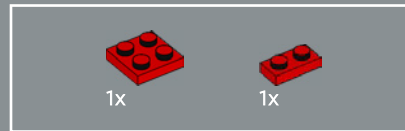

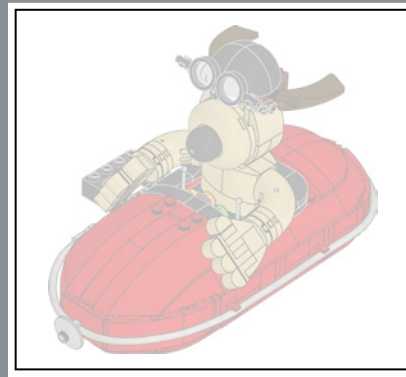

Les véritables modèles de stop-motion de Wallace, de Gromit et de leur moto sont proches de la taille des versions LEGO®, ce qui nous a permis de reproduire des proportions très fidèles. Nick Park ainsi que l'équipe Aardman nous ont également aidés à finaliser les moindres détails. Aardman est réputé pour glisser de nombreux clins d'œil dans ses productions. Bien entendu, nous avons essayé d'en intégrer autant que possible dans ce modèle. Amusez-vous bien pendant la construction !

En octobre 1996, Nick Park a accidentellement perdu Wallace et Gromit lors d'un séjour à New York, une mésaventure qui a fait la une de la presse internationale. Une récompense a été proposée et, 36 heures plus tard, ils ont été retrouvés sains et saufs dans le coffre d'un taxi !
